Scroll down and you will see that SUPR has nothing listed. I continue to be concerned that we are not communicating to upper management and the rest of the region about the volume of outreach and external coordination done in our program. Look at the entries for AWMD and WWPD as good examples.

Our current process is for staff or managers to send items to Jaci for entry into the Daily Digest. Alternatively, you may send entries directly to the R7 Daily Digest INBOX which is set up in outlook. Perhaps we need to re-evaluate our submission process to ensure we are communicating about our good work and planned events. I am certainly open to your suggestions.

I am listing below examples of the types of events that should be submitted:

- Meetings with external stakeholders (cities, states, PRPs, non-profits etc) – include things like RA Priority Panel, DD meetings, RM meetings where we are traveling to attend. Do not include routine calls.

- Outreach events
- Training events – includes training we are providing to others and training we are attending.
- Exercise events
- Conferences

Thanks for your help in communicating our good work.

Kansas City Star - Activists raise concerns over shuttered Kansas City bomb-making plant - 11/5/15 - The Federal Bannister Complex near Troost Avenue and Bannister Road, once a cog in the nation's manufacturing of nuclear weapons, has been contaminated with various toxins. The Bridgeton Landfill was also a topic of discussion. <http://www.kansascity.com/news/government-politics/article43364535.html>

Omaha World-Herald (editorial) - Concerns rise about EPA water rules - 11/6/15 - The best course is for the EPA to press the pause button and work with the states to recast the rules. There's a positive consensus to be achieved, one that provides a balanced approach and much-needed clarity. http://www.omaha.com/opinion/world-herald-editorial-concerns-rise-about-epa-water-rules/article_0aec79f9-338b-55db-8a8c-74a9b66a4179.html

Mason City (Iowa) Globe Gazette - Charles City plans removal of monitoring wells - 11/6/16 - The city of Charles City will be paying about $75,000 more than anticipated this fiscal year for monitoring a former chemical disposal site on Shaw Avenue. http://globegazette.com/news/local/charles-city-plans-removal-of-monitoring-wells/article_0c57ea2f-d553-5e55-97c7-f132822baa23.html

KOMU Channel 8 Columbia - Fight over proposed hog farm continues in mid-Missouri - 11/5/15 - The group Friends of Responsible Agriculture is continuing to fight a proposed hog farm from being built in Callaway County. FORAG is awaiting the results from the Cole County judicial court next month, after filing a lawsuit against the Missouri Department of Natural Resources and Clean Water Commission. <http://www.komu.com/news/enterprise-fight-over-proposed-hog-farm-still-continues-in-mid-missouri/>

Storm Lake (Iowa) Pilot-Tribune (editorial) - What is lawsuit really after? - 11/5/15 - Iowans suing Iowans is difficult enough to swallow, but the concept of rewarding such an expensive and some might suggest ultimately fruitless legal entanglement is a bit troubling.
